FEBRUARY

Next month sees the long-awaited reopening of the Fashion & Textile Museum in Bermondsey Street. Founded by Zandra Rhodes, the museum was bought by Newham College in 2006.

The London Bridge Experience opens in Tooley Street on 22 February. The new attraction blends local history and horror to bring to life the story of London's original river crossing at the same time as providing a grisly rival to the nearby London Dungeon.

Also set for a February launch is The Moveium of London, a new interactive exhibition of cinema history at County Hall on the South Bank.

From 7 to 14 February lighting festival Switched On London returns to the Pool of London and north Bermondsey. More than 15 buildings and public spaces will be illuminated in creative ways each day between 6pm and midnight.

MARCH

HMS Belfast will mark the 70th anniversary of the ship's launch. The ship's newly restored silver bell, originally presented to the ship by the people of Belfast, will be re-dedicated at a ceremony on 15 March.

APRIL

The second St George in Southwark Festival takes place in April. This emerging community festival aims to reinvent the celebration of St George as a unifying figure for north Southwark's multicultural community.

St George's Day – Wednesday 23 April – is also Shakespeare's Birthday which marks the start of the Globe's 2008 theatre season - which includes King Lear

MAY

At the beginning of May we will find out who will control City Hall for the next four years. The Mayoralty and the 25 seats on the London Assembly are up for grabs on Thursday 1 May.

JUNE

On 20 June the month-long London Festival of Architecture (formerly the Biennale) gets under way. Southwark & the South Bank is one of the five hubs with talks, walks, cycle rides and exhibitions. Venues include the Design Museum, Royal Festival Hall, Potters Fields, Jubilee Gardens, The Cut and Elephant & Castle.

St Thomas' Hospital will open its doors to visitors on Saturday 21 June for a day of education and entertainment.

This summer work will begin on the rebuilding of Blackfriars station as part of the Thameslink scheme. A new station entrance is to be constructed on Bankside. The Thames Path will be diverted via Southwark Street and Hopton Street whilst work is carried out.

JULY

On 9 July 1968 The Queen opened The Hayward on the South Bank. The gallery's 40th birthday will be commemorated with a major exhibition of artist-designed architectural installations called Psycho Buildings (June to August).

On 14 July the 600th anniversary of the death of poet John Gower will be marked by a visit of Poet Laureate Andrew Motion to Southwark Cathedral where Gower is seen in effigy on his magnificent tomb.

SEPTEMBER

The annual Oyster & Seafood Fair returns to Hay's Galleria from 5 to 8 September.

The Mayor's Thames Festival returns on 13 & 14 September with the usual mix of stalls, entertainment and pyrotechnics.

The following weekend, 21 & 22 September, is Open House London when dozens of buildings of architectural and historic interest open their doors for free.

Bankside

Sunday 6 January
TWELFTH NIGHT 2237
12.45pm; free

An annual seasonal celebration held in the Bankside area. It is a celebration of the New Year, mixing ancient seasonal customs with contemporary festivity. It is free, accessible to all and happens whatever the weather. To herald the celebration, the extraordinary Holly Man, the Winter guise of the Green Man from pagan myths and folklore, decked in fantastic green garb and evergreen foliage, appears from the River Thames brought by the Thames Cutter, Master Shipbroker. With the crowd, led by the Bankside Mumpers, the Holly Man 'brings in the green' and 'wassails' or toasts the people and the River Thames – an old tradition encouraging good growth. The Globe is wassailed in like fashion. The Mumpers then process to the Bankside Pier, and perform the traditional 'freestyle' Folk Combat Play of St George, featuring the Turkey Sniper, Clever Legs, the Old 'Oss and many others, dressed in their spectacular 'guizes'. The play is full of wild verse and boisterous action, a time-honoured part of the season recorded from the Crusades. Cakes distributed at the end of the play have a bean and a pea hidden in two of them. Those who find them are hailed King and Queen for the day and crowned with ceremony. They then lead the people through the streets to The George Inn in Borough High Street for storytelling, the Kissing Wishing Tree and more dancing. www.thelionspart.co.uk

THE BITTER TEARS OF PETRA VON KANT 3567
7.30pm (also 9.30pm Fri & Sat); £7-£20 (airline-style)

In a radical new production by award winning Irish director Yvonne McDevitt, Rainer Werner Fassbinder's cult classic unfolds in the sprawling labyrinth within the railway arches under London Bridge Station. In this new translation by David Tushingham, the international company presents a treatment of love over three generations of women.

LITHUANIAN FESTIVAL 3733
Times vary; £7-£20 (airline-style)

A festival of Lithuanian plays, music, film, design and talks.

The One that Hurt the Most by Gabriele Labanauskaitė: In an underground urban bar, gay culture thrives away from society's disgusted glare. But when Jetaime's parents unexpectedly arrive, so do their prejudices and rejection. Coming out in this homophobic society starts a deadly chain of events.

The Doll by Dovile Katiliute: In a city where nothing is allowed, including laughing, Antanas has an illegal secret - a Doll he can hear. But when his mother and the local priest try to take her away, Antanas flees this restrictive world.

Goodbye My Love by Marius Macevicius: Birute's life in Scotland is seemingly glamorous and free, apparently running a restaurant with a Turkish boyfriend - in every sense an envied member of the diaspora. But ambitions run deeper than motherly love as she returns to see her son in Lithuania, and capitalism touches a post-Soviet life.

11.30pm; £25 (conc £18)
Four of the best zombie films of recent years - thrills, spills and bucket-loads of gore guaranteed! Next is 28 Days Later, Danny Boyle's post-apocalyptic thriller which has become a modern British horror classic, and its sequel 28 Weeks Later which picks up the story six months after the rage virus has annihilated mainland Britain. We round off the night with Shaun of the Dead. Edgar Wright's rom-zom-com is one of the funniest British films of recent years, but also manages to deliver a fair amount of splatter and some genuine scares. All films will be shown in 35mm, filling about 1/3 of the giant screen. Snacks are on sale all night, with alcoholic and soft drinks available at the bar and free tea and coffee. 30 minute breaks between the films. Event finishes approx 9am.

COMPETITION

Win first-day tickets to new London Bridge attraction

SE1's newest attraction opens its doors for business on 22 February – and you could be one of the first visitors to experience it.

in SE1 has a pair of tickets to give away for the opening day of the London Bridge Experience, which combines state-of-the-art visual effects with live action to trace the 2000-year history of one of the world's most famous bridges.

Housed in the excavated vaults south of Tooley Street, The London Bridge Experience will offer two attractions under one roof.

At the London Bridge Experience, visitors are taken on a guided tour of London Bridge's history which uses a combination of special effects, CGI, real characters and animation. There will be unexpected shocks, thrills and drama along the way.

With the same ticket – £19.95 for adults, £14.95 for children – braver visitors can then go deeper into the bowels of the bridge and test their nerve in the London Tombs, where human remains and historic artefacts have been discovered. This grisly tour offers Hollywood-style special effects and a huge scare factor in an authentic – and extremely spooky – setting.

London Bridge dates back to the Romans, and has a fascinating and often bloody history. The bridge has been knocked down and re-built several times – the last in 1973 when the Sir John Rennie bridge, which had stood since 1831, was sold to an American oil baron, dismantled and shipped to be displayed in Lake Havasu, Arizona where it remains a popular tourist attraction.

To enter the competition, just answer this simple question: In which American state is the Sir John Rennie bridge now displayed?

Send your answer by email to londonbridge@inSE1.co.uk or send a postcard to in SE1, 27 Blackfriars Road, London SE1 8NY. Closing date Thursday 31 January.
